

International Women's Day

Featuring Author and Scholar

Dacia Maraini

This event is free and open to the public

W. March 9, 2022, 12:00-2:00pm EST (18:00-20:00pm Italy time)

Zoom link: <https://bit.ly/uriiwd2022>

Conference featuring Dacia Maraini along with the distinguished scholars: Susan Amatangelo (The College of Holy Cross), Giuseppe Balirano (University of Naples L'Orientale), Maristella Cantini (Tuscany Language Academy), Elvira Di Fabio (Harvard University), Ombretta Frau (Mount Holyoke College), Claus Friede (University of Music and Theatre Hamburg HFMT), Tommasina Gabriele (Wheaton College), Ulrich Glassmann (University of Flensburg), Christine Landfried (University of Hamburg), Elahe Massumi (media artist and movie director), Alicia Vanessa Nuñez (Northwestern University), Glorimarie Peña Alicea (University of Connecticut), Angela Pitassi (UCONN), Dagmar Reichardt (Latvian Academy of Culture LAC), Katya Soldak (journalist and filmmaker)

We will focus on themes inspired by Maraini's production, such as femicide, feminism, identity and inclusion, and on women's issues in Afghanistan, Central America, Germany, Japan, Iran, Italy, European Union, Syria, Ukraine, and the US

Moderator and organizer

Professor Michelangelo La Luna at laluna@uri.edu

In collaboration with Professor Dagmar Reichardt (LAC, Latvia / Europe)

Assistance: Monica Martinelli (UCONN) and Daniel Shields (Cranston High School West)

Sponsors

URI Office of the President - URI Office of the Dean of the College of Arts & Sciences